REPORT OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Dr. Arrington, of the finance committee, stated that probably money could be bor-rowed for the teachers, provided the incom-ing school tax be pledged to the payment of the same. He asked Colonel Livermore to read the report.

Mr. Livermore, of the finance committee, stated that the present indebtedness of the schools up to the 1st of January was about $17,000, and each month would add $5000 to that indebtedness. He then read the follow-

On returning to the engine-house the boiler or tank of the engine was emptied, and in it was formal a live young shad three and a half inches in length, a small cat-fish, a craw-fish and a water dog. They were of course drawn from Wolf river and pumped through the water pipes, a distance of over two miles, when they were caught by the Desoto steam fire engine, which new stands ahead of the "Lone Fisherman" because it catches shad by steam power. a old Masistrate and Grocery-Reeper Has His Brains Beaten Out With a Hammer in Chelsea-Arrest Made.

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning a little girl entered the family grocery store of Esquire Gray Varnell, on the corner of Fourth and Auction streets, Chelsea, and was horrified to find Mr. Varnell lying in a pool 2,000 bxs, Haives and quarters Raisins. of blood on the floor. He was dead, murdered by some person unknown. An alarm was at once given, and the neighbors hurried to the store. They found Mr. Varnell lying near the foot of the counter. His head, face and breast were covered with blood, and from a wound on the right side of his head the brain oozed out. There were other cuts in the head, and one of his hands was & Campbell's. bruised. A machinist's hammer was found 20,000 cs. assorted Fruits and Vegetables near by, and the face of it was covered with hair and blood. Who murdered old man Varnell is a mystery. He was nearly sixty years of age, crippled by rheumatism, and lived all alone in a dirty little old room, back of his little store or shop, in which shop there was probably fifty dollars worth of grocery stuff, of a cheap character. He was a magistrate of the county and was known to have accumulated a censiderable amount of money. He lived in parsimonious style, had to family, did his own cooking, and hermitlike had but little to do with or to say to the outside world. He made a little money and saved it all by close living and economy. He paid his debts, and insisted that all his debt-ors should pay him what they owed. For years he lived this solitary life in the old room back of his little shop, and many who knew him and who knew that he had money nd kept it near him, predicted that he could be robbed, if not murdered sometime, WHAT WAS DISCOVERED. The discovery of his murdered remains created quite a sensation in Chelsea. Several of the police and Esquire Spelman ar-rived to hold the inquest and investigate the cause of his death. There was but little tesony introduced, as but little could be ound. Mr. Varnell had been seen feeding his chickens and moving around in the lot between 7 and 8 a.m. An hour later, a colored drunken man, Ransom Benyaurd, a kind of blacksmith, who was employed at the day with Judge Horrigan on crutches and on | waterworks, was seen sitting in front of the ocery, endeavoring to empty his stomach of e vile stuff which he had swallowed. ness could not say whether the man he saw hurrying away was white or colored. The police arrested Benyaurd, who was very drunk. When interrogated, he knew nothing of the murder, but said he got the whisky from a grocery near the corner of Second and Mill streets. The keeper of the grocery said this assertion was not true, as Benyaurd had not been in the grocery that morning The hammer found near the dead body did not belong to Mr. Varnell, It is of a peculiar kind, used by machinists, boiler-makers and Mr. James William, No. 60 Front Mr. James William Mr. James The handle of it was black with sweat and, cured and is grateful to Dr. Reva. -The Pleasant Hours social club gave the masquerade ball of the season at the Macenerchor hall Monday night.
